Would these roadblocks resonate with your consultants?

Assembly work guzzles time

Client presentations and proposals take hours to perfect, leaving teams with less time for true strategy development.

Tribal knowledge abounds

Information about clients and services lives disparately in people's brains, not in one central, accessible place.

Broadening feels impossible

Too often firms specialize and become known for just one service — but you know (and we know) you have much more to offer.

Deliver commercial excellence with Seismic

Automate repeatable tasks

Assemble personalized, interactive presentations and proposals in minutes, not days.

Keep advisors aligned

Offer one place for your team to find, customize, and deliver “wow” content to clients.

Maximize client conversations

Equip your team to upsell by leveraging content that showcases your broad expertise.

“With Seismic, we’ve found a solution to a challenge that has plagued our sellers for years: effectively utilizing the voice of the customer to help us win new business.”
