

Seismic for Manufacturing

Centralize thousands of assets and specifications, making them easy to find and simple to collaborate on.

Innovation is the heart of manufacturing. It should also be the heart of how manufacturers go to market.

GTM processes aren't keeping up

As new tech pushes up production, going to market should get faster. That's easier said than done with so much content to create and manage.

The emerging workforce expects better digital tools

Younger employees are digitally savvy, preferring employers who offer software that enables them to do their jobs better.

Distributors have a high bar for partnership

Distributors want to partner with strong manufacturers, and that means manufacturers need to effectively communicate their value.

Put Seismic on your GTM assembly line

Align your GTM org for efficiency and effectiveness

Centralize all things content and training within a single source of truth that integrates with many of the tools you already use.

Streamline your reps' tasks to maximize their results

Reduce the time it takes for reps to reflect their knowledge of a given customer, partner, or deal in the content they share.

Easily create engaging collateral and training

Leverage interactive assets, social media, mobile-friendly lessons, and more for consistent messaging that stands out.

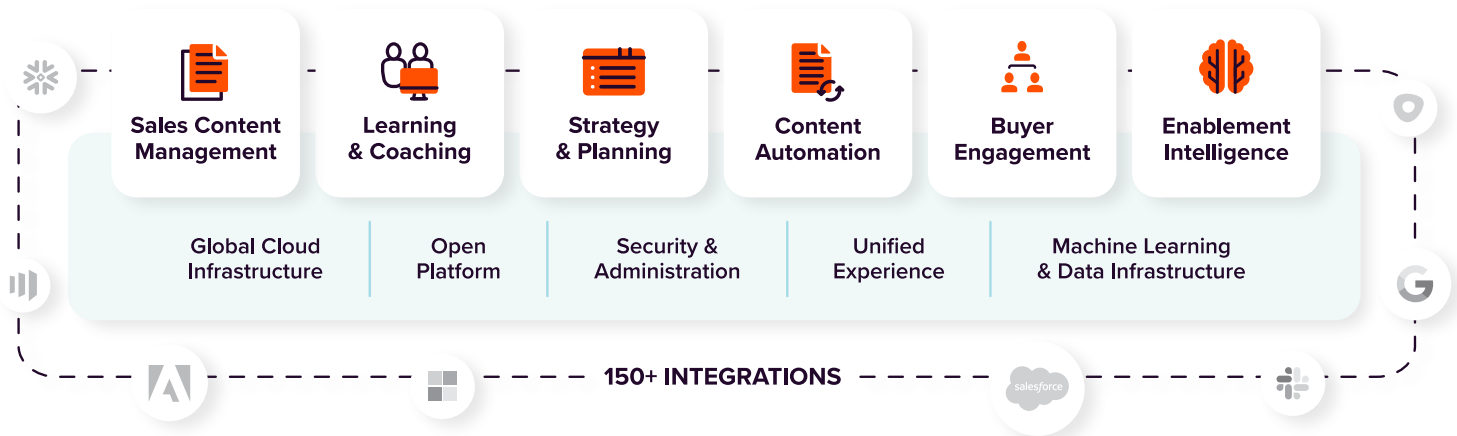

“[Seismic] Knowledge has allowed our team to upload close to 5,000 FAQs that are available to all specialists within 5-7 seconds anytime they ask a question.”
