

Seismic for Telecommunications

Go to market faster, close deals sooner, and boost your B2B revenue.

It can be tough out there for telcos

There's a ton of competition

A steady stream of new entrants into the market makes it difficult to differentiate, and services are becoming more commoditized than ever.

Acquiring new customers is an uphill battle

Since so many customers stay with their established providers, revenue growth relies on renewals, cross-sells, and upsells.

B2B selling is another animal

Most telcos have yet to master the art of selling to other businesses, even though that's where the biggest opportunities are.

Deliver commercial excellence with Seismic

Stand out from the crowd

Leverage easy-to-build interactive content and uncover insights to capture more buyers' attention.

Really get to know your customers

Plan, execute, and measure all your content initiatives. Then, leverage that knowledge to iterate for continual improvement.

Streamline content management and training

Easily find content when it's needed and keep reps up to date with media-rich, mobile-friendly lessons they can take anywhere.

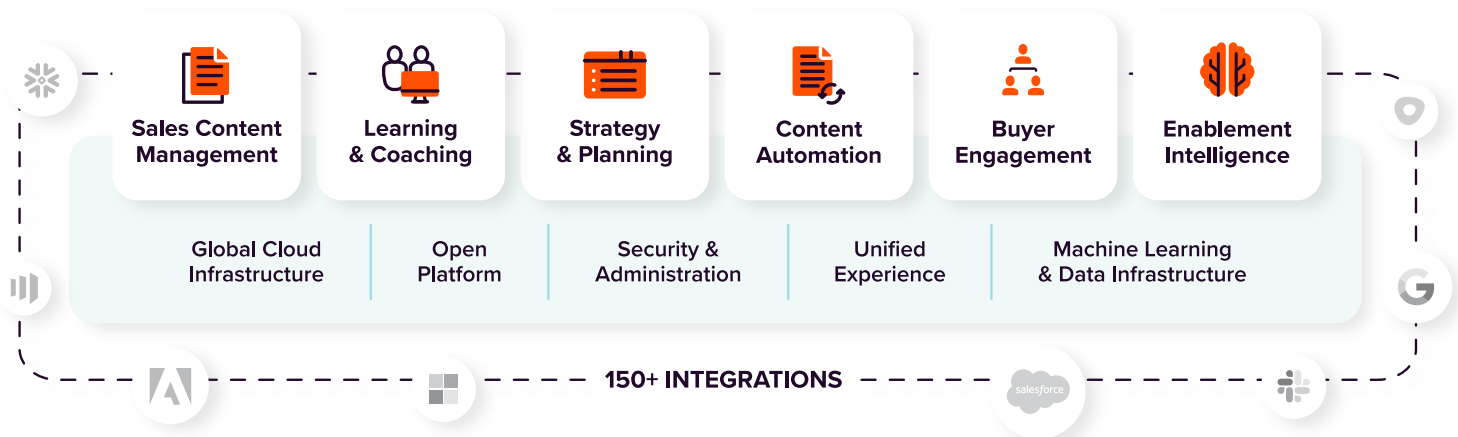

“Lessonly [by Seismic] allows us to disseminate information, that may only take 5 to 10 minutes to absorb, to a large amount of people at one time with little-to-no significant impact to our service levels.”
